

LOOKING FOR A QUICK GETAWAY? TAKE A CRUISE.

Three- and four-night cruises are becoming a favorite among travelers shopping for quick getaways.

While short-getaway cruises are not a new offering by cruise lines, they are being given more attention by those buying vacation packages, as well as by those selling them.

Throughout the month of May, Liberty Travel will be promoting "Short Getaways at Sea" with print and online ads, as well as a section in their monthly TravelFlash publication, available at Liberty Travel's store locations.

Featured packages include:

*A 4-night cruise to the Bahamas aboard Royal Caribbean's Monarch of the Seas with ports-of-call in Port Canaveral, Cococay and Nassau, from $249.

*A 3-day "Caribbean Sampler" aboard Princess Cruises' Ruby Princess, sailing from Ft. Lauderdale to Princess Cays, from $249.

*A 3-night European cruise aboard Norwegian Cruise Line's Norwegian Jewel, sailing from London and stopping in Amsterdam and Brussels, from $279.

While shorter vacations seem to be the trend at the moment, plenty of travelers are still booking trips that last a week or more. For travelers shopping for something longer than a quick getaway, a 3- or 4-night cruise is an affordable way to divide an itinerary between land and sea.

Book-by dates and sail dates vary. Travelers can visit LibertyTravel.com or call their nearest Liberty Travel Store at 1-877-Liberty for bookings, details and complete terms and conditions.

Issued on April 10, 2009 by
Jameson Kowalczyk
201.934.3823
kowalczykj@libgotravel.com